C. Principal subjects of concern and recommendations

Definition of torture

7. While noting certain amendments to national legislation in relation to the crime of torture, the Committee is concerned that a comprehensive definition of torture incorporating all elements of article 1 of the Convention, in particular a specific reference to discrimination,<sup>24</sup> which is not included in the Criminal Code (arts. 1 and 4).

The Committee urges the State party to adopt a definition of torture that covers all elements contained in article 1 of the Convention and ensure that penalties for torture are commensurate with the gravity of this crime in accordance with article 4, paragraph 2 of the Convention. In this regard, the Committee draws attention to its general comment no. 2 (2007) on the implementation of article 2 by States parties, which states that serious discrepancies between the Convention's definition and that incorporated into domestic law create actual or potential loopholes for impunity (para. 9).

Fundamental legal safeguards

8. The Committee is concerned that detained persons do not enjoy, in practice, all the fundamental legal safeguards from the very outset of their deprivation of liberty, in particular after arrest by police, and that minors can undergo initial questioning without the presence of their lawyers, parents or other trusted persons (arts. 2, 12, 13 and 16).

The State party should take effective measures to guarantee that all detained persons, including minors, are afforded, in practice, all the fundamental legal safeguards from the outset of their deprivation of liberty, in accordance with international standards, including:

- (a) To be informed about the charges against them and about their rights, both orally and in writing, in a language that they understand, and to sign a paper confirming that they have understood the information provided to them;
- (b) To have prompt access to a lawyer from the very outset of deprivation of liberty and, if necessary, to legal aid, including during the initial interrogation;
- (c) To have immediate access to an independent medical examination, free of charge and not in the presence of police officers;
- (d) To notify a family member or any other person of their own choice of their detention immediately after apprehension and not only after seeing a judge.<sup>25</sup>

Duration of pre-trial detention

9. The Committee is concerned at the length of pre-trial detention, which can last up to five years<sup>26</sup> (arts. 2 and 11).

The State party should amend legislation with a view to reduce the duration of pre-trial detention, which should be used as an exception, applied for limited periods of time and should be clearly regulated and subject to judicial supervision at all times in order to guarantee fundamental legal and procedural safeguards. The State party should consider replacing pre-trial detention with non-custodial measures, in accordance with the United Nations Standard Minimum Rules for Non-custodial Measures (the Tokyo Rules). In addition, the Committee recommends that the State party ensure that redress and compensation are provided to victims of unjustified prolonged pre-trial detention.

Conditions of detention

10. The Committee is concerned at the insufficient number of psychiatrists in the prison system as well as at the absence of a purposeful regime, including outdoor exercise, for remand prisoners and in particular for those serving life sentences (arts. 2, 11 and 16).

The Committee urges the State party to take the necessary steps to ensure that prison conditions are in line with relevant international human rights standards, and, in particular, to:

- (a) Ensure, with a view to preventing the deterioration of their mental faculties and social abilities,<sup>27</sup> that all persons deprived of their liberty, and in particular prisoners serving life sentences, have access to a regime of organised and purposeful, out-of-cell activities; take measures to integrate life-sentenced prisoners into the general prison population;
- (b) Strengthen the independent and regular monitoring of all places of deprivation of liberty by the Ombudsperson and other independent and impartial mechanisms, including conducting unannounced visits to places of deprivation of liberty; and enable them to deal with the complaints of inmates about their conditions of detention and provide effective follow-up to such complaints;

(c) Ensure a sufficient number of psychiatrists in the prison health care system.

Excessive use of force by law enforcement officials, including violence against Roma

11. The Committee is concerned:

(a) At reports alleging cases of excessive use of force by law enforcement officials, including against minors, mostly immediately after apprehension,<sup>28</sup> which may amount to ill-treatment or torture;

(b) At the low number of complaints, prosecutions and convictions in such cases;

(c) That investigations into allegations of ill-treatment by police officers are carried out by the Control and Inspection Service Department of the Ministry of the Interior, which is a department within the same structure employing the alleged perpetrators;

(d) That no charges were brought<sup>29</sup> against police officers who participated in the raid on 19 June 2013 on the Roma settlement of Moldava nad Bodvou in Eastern Slovakia, that resulted in the apprehension of 15 persons, a number of whom have reportedly been seriously ill-treated by the police during their apprehension and subsequent detention;<sup>30</sup>

(e) That all 10 policemen who abused physically and inflicted degrading treatment on six Roma juveniles in the city of Kosice on 21 March 2009 were acquitted in the first instance judgement by the Kosice District Court II on 27 February 2015, since the court refused to admit the video recording of the incriminated act as a legally obtained piece of evidence<sup>31</sup> (arts. 2, 12, 13, 14 and 16).

The State party should:

(a) Carry out prompt, impartial, thorough and effective investigations into all allegations of excessive use of force, including torture and ill-treatment, by law enforcement officials; and ensure that those suspected of having committed such acts are immediately suspended from their duties throughout the investigation, while ensuring that the principle of presumption of innocence is observed;

(b) Provide the Committee with information on the number of cases of excessive use of force by law enforcement officials that have been investigated, disaggregated by age, gender and ethnic or national origin<sup>32</sup> of the victims; the number of perpetrators who have been prosecuted for acts of torture and ill-treatment; and the penalties applied to those found guilty;

(c) Prosecute persons suspected of having committed torture or ill-treatment and, if they are found guilty, ensure that they receive sentences that are commensurate with the gravity of their acts and that the victims are afforded appropriate redress;

(d) Ensure that offences motivated by discrimination constitute an aggravating circumstance in criminal prosecution;

(e) Establish an independent monitoring and oversight mechanism that complies with the requirement of institutional independence in order to avoid conflict of interest in the investigation of complaints by peers;

(f) Ensure that prosecutors and judges are automatically notified of all cases of ill-treatment and torture in police detention facilities, regardless of possible absence of visible injuries, video-record all actions by the police, including interrogations; and ensure that persons who have complained about allegations of torture and ill-treatment as well as witnesses to it are protected from reprisals;

(g) State at the highest political level that there will be no tolerance for excessive use of force against persons deprived of their liberty by law enforcement officials, including against members of ethnic minorities;

(h) Take measures to eradicate all forms of harassment and ill-treatment by police during investigations and ensure that law enforcement officials are trained in professional techniques and international standards on the use of force and firearms;

(i) Continue the recruitment of police officers of Roma origin and expand the functions of Roma police specialists.

Hate speech against vulnerable groups

Involuntary sterilization of Roma women

12. The Committee is concerned at reports of sterilization of Roma women without free and informed consent and about the difficulties of victims to obtain redress (arts. 2, 14 and 16).

The Committee recommends that the State party investigate promptly, impartially and effectively all allegations of involuntary sterilization of Roma women and provide victims with fair and adequate redress. Medical personnel who have conducted sterilizations without free, full and informed consent should be held criminally liable, prosecuted and punished. They should also be trained on appropriate means of how to obtain free and informed consent from women undergoing sterilization and all written materials relating to sterilization should be translated into the Roma language and other relevant languages.

Efficiency of the judicial system and length of judicial proceedings

13. The Committee is concerned at the lack of efficiency of the judicial system, including the slowness of judicial proceedings that create a backlog of cases. It is concerned in particular in relation to criminal proceedings involving cases of excessive use of force and abuse of power by law enforcement officials, which have resulted in acquittals that were subsequently quashed by a higher judicial instance and have been pending before the lower courts for several years, such as in the Kosice case (arts. 2, 12, 13 and 16).

The State party should improve the functioning of the judicial system in order to enhance the speed and efficiency of judicial proceedings, in particular with regard to criminal justice, and reduce the backlog of cases in its courts;

Domestic violence

14. While noting the steps taken by the State party to address violence against women and domestic violence, the Committee is concerned that domestic violence is not a separate crime in the Penal Code. It is also concerned at the wide prevalence of violence against women in the State party and the low number of complaints in this regard as well as the low number of investigations and prosecutions (arts. 2, 12, 13, 14 and 16).

The Committee recommends that the State party:

- (a) Define and introduce domestic violence, including sexual violence and marital rape, as specific criminal offences in its Penal Code, with appropriate sanctions;
- (b) Ensure the effective implementation of the National Action Plan for the Prevention and Elimination of Violence against Women for the years 2014-2019 and regularly assess its results;
- (c) Ensure the effective functioning of the free nonstop State-funded helpline for women who are experiencing violence;
- (d) Establish an effective and independent complaints mechanism for victims of domestic violence;
- (e) Ensure that all allegations of domestic violence, including sexual violence and violence against children, are registered by the police and that all allegations of domestic violence are promptly, impartially and effectively investigated and the perpetrators prosecuted and punished;
- (f) Ensure that victims of domestic violence benefit from protection, including restraining orders, and have access to medical and legal services, including counselling, safe and adequately funded shelters, and redress, including rehabilitation.

Trafficking in human beings

15. While welcoming the amendments to legislation modifying the definition of human trafficking to include new forms of punishable conduct, the Committee is concerned that the State party remains a country of origin, transit and destination for human trafficking, in particular for labour and sexual exploitation and forced begging. The Committee is also concerned at the very lenient or suspended sentences given to perpetrators of trafficking in human beings (arts. 2, 10, 12, 13, 14 and 16).

The State party should:

- (a) Vigorously implement international and domestic anti-trafficking legislation, allocate sufficient funds to combat trafficking and conduct national prevention campaigns about the criminal nature of such acts;
- (b) Take effective measures to prevent and eradicate human trafficking, including by providing specialized training to public officials on identifying victims and on investigating, prosecuting and sanctioning perpetrators;
- (c) Ensure the effective implementation of the National Programme of Fight against Human Trafficking for 2015-2018 and the round-the-clock functioning of the National Hotline for the Protection of Human Trafficking Victims;
- (d) Promptly, effectively and impartially investigate the crime of trafficking in persons and related practices; prosecute and punish perpetrators in accordance with the gravity of the crime;
- (e) Increase the protection of and provide redress to victims of trafficking, including legal, medical and psychological aid and rehabilitation, as well as adequate shelters and assistance in reporting incidents of trafficking to the police;
- (f) Enhance international cooperation with regard to preventing and punishing trafficking; and prevent the return of trafficked persons to their countries of origin where there are substantial grounds to believe that they would be in danger of torture;

(g) Provide the Committee with comprehensive disaggregated data on the number of investigations, prosecutions and sentences handed down to perpetrators of human trafficking, and on the provision of effective redress to the victims.

National human rights institution

16. The Committee is concerned that the Slovak National Centre for Human Rights does not have a sufficiently broad mandate. It is also concerned at the non-transparency of the recruitment procedure, the lack of diversity in the staff as well as at insufficient immunity and independence.

The Committee recommends that the State party amend the relevant legislation with a view to strengthen the mandate and independence of the Slovak National Centre for Human Rights in order to bring it in full compliance with the Paris Principles and take steps to ensure the provision of sufficient financial and human resources to enable it to carry out its mandate independently and effectively.

Non-refoulement and the use of diplomatic assurances

17. The Committee is concerned that the State party does not fully apply its obligations under article 3 of the Convention with regard to the respect of the principle of non-refoulement. It is also concerned that the State party has accepted diplomatic assurances in relation to extraditions of persons from its territory to States where the life or personal integrity could be threatened, including the case of Mr. Anzor Chentiev. (arts. 3 and 16)

The Committee recommends that the State party:

(a) Ensure that it complies fully with its obligations under article 3 of the Convention and that individuals under the State party's jurisdiction receive appropriate consideration by the competent authorities and are guaranteed fair treatment at all stages of proceedings, including an opportunity for effective and impartial review by an independent decision mechanism on expulsion, return or extradition, with suspensive effect;

(b) Fulfil its non-refoulement obligations and guarantee the right to appeal the issuance of an extradition warrant where there are substantial grounds for believing that a person would be at risk of being subjected to torture;

(c) Refuse to accept diplomatic assurances in relation to extraditions of persons from its territory to States where those persons would be in danger of being subjected to torture, since those assurances cannot be an instrument to modify a determination of a possible violation of article 3 of the Convention.

Training

18. The Committee is concerned at the absence of specific methodologies to evaluate the effectiveness and impact on a reduction in the number of cases of torture and ill-treatment of the training and educational programmes on the provisions of the Convention for law enforcement personnel and other public officials. It is also concerned that training on the Manual on the Effective Investigation and Documentation of Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment (the Istanbul Protocol) is not provided to all medical professionals dealing with persons deprived of liberty (art. 10).

The State party should:

(a) Develop and implement specific methodologies to assess the effectiveness and impact of training and educational programmes provided to law enforcement and other public officials on the provisions of the Convention;

(b) Ensure that the Istanbul Protocol is made an essential part of the training for all medical professionals and other public officials involved in work with persons deprived of their liberty;

(c) Ensure instruction and methodical guidance for police on the need to respect the principles of necessity and proportionality during police interventions, as well as on the absolute prohibition of torture and other State obligations according to the Convention.

Data collection

19. The Committee regrets the absence of comprehensive statistical data, disaggregated by age, gender and ethnic or national origin, on complaints, investigations, prosecutions and convictions in cases of torture and ill-treatment by law enforcement and prison personnel, or on trafficking and domestic and sexual violence, including means of redress.

The State party should compile statistical data relevant to the monitoring of the implementation of the Convention at the national level, including statistics disaggregated by age, gender and ethnic or national origin on complaints, investigations, prosecutions and convictions of cases of torture and ill-treatment, trafficking and domestic and sexual violence, and on means of redress, including compensation and rehabilitation, provided to the victims.

Follow-up procedure

20. The Committee requests the State party to provide, by 14 August 2016, follow-up information in response to the Committee's recommendations relating to: ensuring fundamental legal safeguards; providing data on investigations of excessive use of force; carrying out investigations on the excessive use of force; and publically stating zero tolerance towards the excessive use of force, as contained in paragraphs 8, 11(a), 11(b) and 11(g) respectively of the present document.

Other issues

21. The Committee invites the State party to consider ratifying the other United Nations human rights treaties to which it is not yet party, namely the Optional Protocol to the Convention against Torture and other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment and the International Convention on the Protection of the Rights of All Migrant Workers and Members of their Families.

22. The Committee recommends that the State party consider making the declarations envisaged under articles 21 and 22 of the Convention, in order to recognize the competence of the Committee to receive and consider communications.

23. The State party is requested to disseminate widely the report submitted to the Committee and the Committee's concluding observations in appropriate languages through official websites, the media and non-governmental organizations.

24. The State party is invited to submit its next report, which will be the fourth periodic report, by 14 August 2019. For that purpose, the Committee will, in due course, submit to the State party a list of issues prior to reporting, considering that the State party has accepted to report to the Committee under the optional reporting procedure.
